

CENTRO
PER LA STORIA DELL'UNIVERSITÀ DI PADOVA

RICHARD PALMER

THE STUDIO OF VENICE
AND ITS GRADUATES
IN THE SIXTEENTH CENTURY

EDIZIONI LINT
MCMLXXXIII

PRIMA EDIZIONE: MARZO 1983

STAMPATO IN ITALIA - PRINTED IN ITALY

PROPRIETÀ ARTISTICA E LETTERARIA RISERVATA

© 1983 BY EDIZIONI LINT

Via della Provvidenza, 147 - 35030 Sarmeola di Rubano (Padova)

Via di Romagna, 30 - 34134 Trieste

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	IX
Abbreviations	XI
Introduction	1
The Venetian College of Physicians and the founding of the Studio	3
Student mobility and the attractions of the Studio of Venice	14
The rivalry between the Colleges of Venice and Padua	21
Degree prices at Venice and Padua	31
Examinations and degree ceremonies in Venice	34
The graduates of Venice	39
Higher education in Venice	44
The fate of the Studio and its archive	51
Appendix one: Documents
A. The privilege awarded by Frederick III to the Ve- netian College of Physicians	57
B. The bull of Paul II founding the Studio Generale of Venice	59
C. The degree certificate of Alexander Sanguinetus of Verona	61
Appendix two:
Graduations in the Studio of Venice 1501-1602	67
Catalogue of graduations	71
Index of names	193

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

A book such as this, which draws information from scattered sources, would have been impossible without generous help from many quarters. My greatest debt is to the Wellcome Trust for the Research Fellowship which I hold at the Wellcome Institute for the History of Medicine. I am also indebted to Dr. Vivian Nutton and other colleagues at the Institute for their support.

It was Dr. David Potter of the University of Kent who first pointed out to me the existence in the Biskupski Musej, Hvar of a minute book of the Venetian College of Physicians. I was able to study this in 1979 with the aid of a research grant from the Royal Society, and to examine it again in 1982. It is a pleasure to record the kindness shown to me on these occasions by Monsignor Celestin Bezmalinović, Bishop of Hvar.

I owe a profound debt to countless librarians and archivists. Above all, I acknowledge the help of Prof. Lucia Rossetti of the Archivio Antico dell'Università, Padua, and of her assistant Dr. Emilia Veronese Ceseracciu who allowed me to consult her unpublished edition of graduations in Padua 1551-1565. I am also grateful to librarians and archivists who replied to my letters of enquiry, especially for helpful information received from the State archives of Como, Florence, Sondrio, Venice and Verona, the civic libraries of Belluno, Crema and Ravenna, the Biblioteca Nazionale Marciana, the Biblioteca Universitaria, Messina, and the Biblioteka Jagiellońska, Cracow.

Together with a whole generation of English historians of Venice, I have benefited from the help and encouragement of Professor Brian Pullan. I am also indebted to Dr. Peter Laven, Dr. Charles Webster, Margaret Pelling, Nicholas Davidson and other historians for support or help with particular problems. Frequent research visits to Italy were made possible by the generosity of the Wellcome Trust, and by the kindness of many Italian friends, above all of Giuliano and Francesca Lucchetta in Venice, Camillo Bianchin in Padua, and Silvio and Teresa Introvigne in Verona. To them I am especially grateful, as also to my wife Valerie who has typed and retyped this book with her usual patience.